

Mark Kiefer's Projects in HTML/CSS/JS

1. This project is a game of simon says. At the start of each level, a button will flash indicating the next button in the sequence. The user must then click the buttons in the order that they appeared in. Each level gets more difficult until the user is no longer able to enter the sequence correctly.

2. This project is a keyboard interactive drum kit. The user can press the cooresponding button on the keyboard or on screen and the sound for that button will play.
